

WHO CAME?

ICV26 was a meeting of the world's flag experts that was held in Sydney, Australia in August / September 2015. Every two years vexillologists gather to share their interest and knowledge about flags. Flags Australia as host of the 26th International Congress had looked forward to welcoming as many vexillologists as possible and we hoped that all who took the time, effort and expense to come to Australia enjoyed their visit to Sydney. The organisers believe that ICV26 ranked highly in terms of the quality of the lectures, the opportunities to socialise and experience Sydney and Canberra. The cost to participants of registration, events and excursions was able to be significantly reduced below cost due to generous donations from sponsors.

We had a high proportion of international companions, most of whom participated in the ICV26 events and the three companion excursions. We also had a high proportion of Australians, most of whom had never had the opportunity to attend an ICV.

Below we have listed the names of those who registered and paid to attend ICV26, together with registered accompanying persons. There were 72 registered delegates from 24 nations, of which 42 were from overseas. There were 27 registered companions, of whom 17 were from overseas.

Due to privacy reasons, we have not included the email address and phone contacts for the delegates. These are available to participants on request to Flags Australia (info@flagsaustralia.com.au).
